

NEWS FROM THE FARM

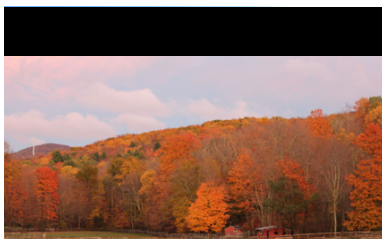

WELCOME TO OUR FIRST EDITION!

We are excited to send our first newsletter! You can stay connected to updates on the farm and exciting local events.

We had our first baby of the season, Celeste had a little girl sired by Marty on September 02. She is quite a looker and we look forward to watching her mature. At the moment, we are calling her MHF Star Gazer.

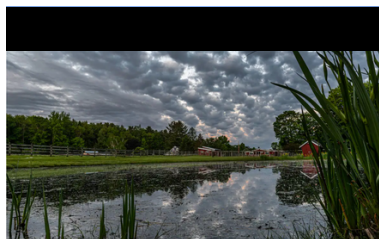

SEASONS AT THE FARM

FALL COLORS

September 9th- November 11th

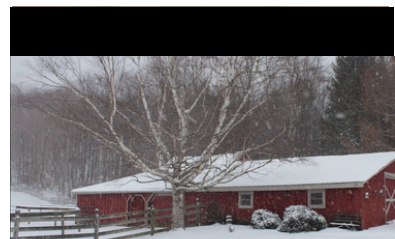

We are booking forward to Leaf Peeping season. It is hard to believe that fall is coming so soon. Yesterday while doing chores I noticed a few brightly colored leaves on the ground.

CELEBRATE SPRING

March 1st - June 5th

Springtime, new births and new beginnings are a magical time at the farm. We are expecting a few new arrivals - Windy is due with her first baby and Elodie & Mia with their second.

WINTER WONDERLAND

November 12th - February 20th

We are located just 7 minutes from Jiminy Peak in Hancock MA. Jiminy is a full service mountain offering a high speed Quad among others. They offer a host of winter wonderland activities.

A WARM WELCOME

Maple Hill Farm is located on the NY/MA border with a total of 40 acres and is set up as a working Llama breeding farm. The farm is located just 2.5 hours north of Manhattan and is accessible via Amtrak to Albany located 45 minutes to the East or via Metro North to Wassaic, NY one hour south. The bucolic setting boasts two ponds, frontage on both sides of the Kinderhook Creek, a stocked trout stream, a caretakers apartment, four barns, numerous out buildings and miles of three board fencing. The property is just a six minute drive to Jiminy Peak and some of the Berkshires best skiing. In the summer, the world renowned Williamstown Theater Festival is only a 20 minute drive from the farm, Lenox Ma., and Tanglewood, the summer home of the Boston Symphony Orchestra is a 30 minute drive away. Jacobs Pillow and the Stockbridge Theatre Festival are a 45 minute drive from the farm.

The seeds for Maple Hill Farms were planted some 55 years back after spending the summer at Camp Huskee in Halstead Pennsylvania. Camp was a bit of a struggle for me. I was awkward, young, searching for my identity, and yearning to belong. The one thing that brought me pleasure and a sense of peace was working around the horses at camp. Camp Huskee had a brilliant policy. They offered their senior equestrian campers the opportunity to bring their assigned horse "home" for the winter. What a great concept, have someone else pay to maintain and board your horses for 10 months out of the year! I brought my horse, Scout home and so began my weekly trips to Kentucky Stables in White Plains, NY to ride and more importantly bond with my newfound friend.

A MESSAGE FROM THE OWNER

We pride ourselves in offering a unique experience, one that we ourselves would cherish. Animal and nature lovers at heart, the bucolic nature of the farm and the peace and tranquility that it offers, is a gift that we enjoy sharing.

We are fortunate to have met a host of lovely people over the years offering the studio on Air BNB, many of which have become regular guests, friends and clients as well.

The newsletter is a relatively new concept for me and I will do my best to keep it interesting and current.

Have a look at Past Events Photos on the left to see photos of our two newest arrivals. The red and white girl is Star Gazer born 9/2 and the brown girl was born just this past Tuesday on 9/12 and we are calling her Harvest Moon.
